

Re: digital Identity

We do not agree with the digital identity proposed by the government.

We have never had nor needed any such control over our country and do not want to end up like other countries, controlled by our every move.

This is not what Australia is about, its total control by a corrupt government, who are doing their damndest to ruin our once beautiful country, which has been admired by the world over for a very long time.

